FHA Girls Attended Meet Here Saturday

Approximately 2,200 Future Homemakers of America including parents, guests, and administrators met Saturday at the West Texas State Fieldhouse. The occasion was the annual Area 1 meeting of the Future Homemakers of America with visitors coming from 37 counties and 106 chapters. They began arriving at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and continued coming until 5 o'clock in the evening.

Canyon High School F.H.A. Chapter, under the leadership of Carlene Morton, 1952-54 president, invited the group to meet here at the House of Delegates meeting last March and they accepted.

Saturday morning was spent listening to greetings from the area president, Jackie Reeves of Amarillo; Norman Tuck, Area 1 Future Farmer of America president, Canyon; Sue Keeling, local F.H.A. chapter president; Miss Gladys Armstrong, associate professor of home economics at W. T.; Mrs. James P. Cornette, District P.T.A. president; and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of W. T.

Dr. Cornette delivered the main address of the day at 10:15 Saturday morning. After a 45 minute intermission the House of Delegates gathered in the Education Building to elect 1954-55 officers. Melba Harper of Anton was elected president; Kathy White, Lubbock, vice-president; Anne Selman, Amarillo, recording secretary; Deann Burke, Friona, corresponding secretary; Linda Franks, Olton, treasurer.

During the House of Delegates meeting the visitors were entertained with a talent show. Twenty-one of the chapters entered skits on a competitive basis and Mrs. J. D. Barker of Canyon was one of the skit judges. The Littlefield senior high school skit, "Jeannie in the Light Blue Jeans," won first place. It will be presented during the state meet at Fort Worth in April.

Miss Esther Sorenson, Area supervisor of Home and Family Life Education, reported 57 girls from the area working for State degrees. Mrs. Clara B. Long, local high school homemaker teacher, and Billie Graham, 1953 State degree winner, will help judge these degrees at Plainview March 27.

The group conferred three honorary degrees upon Mrs. W. C. Irons, homemaker teacher of Lockney; Mrs. Jo Dolph Addison, Abilene; and Mrs. Evelyn Stubblefield, housewives and mothers who have assisted in F.H.A. work on local, area, and state levels.

Barbara Cornelius, State third F.H.A. president of Olton, installed the newly elected officers. The group adjourned with the song, "Sing Your Way Home."

Local girls helping with the meeting were Billie Graham, Sue Keeling, Jane Worsham, Virginia Leake, June Davis, Sherry Dawson and Betty Burrus with registration. Theresa Mickey and Virginia Walker acted as guides. Morning messengers were Nancy Root and Diane Prichard. Marilyn Keller served in the afternoon. Alby Ann Kuehler, Sharon Duncan, and Mona Beth Gilliam helped put up placards to remind the group not to walk on the gym floor.

District 94-F is the only flatorial district on the High Plains and includes, in addition to Potter County, Randall, Carson, and Armstrong counties. This is not to be confused with the 93rd District which includes only Potter County.

In making the announcement for his candidacy, Mr. Andis said:

"I believe that because my experience as a member of the Texas Legislature during the 53rd session and as a former employee of the Texas Senate that I now have a valuable knowledge of the problems and possibilities confronting District 94-F as well as the State of Texas, and that I am qualified to serve the people honestly and efficiently as their representative."

Freeway Is Issue Of Court Monday

A delegation of six or eight people from South Amarillo met with the Commissioners Court Monday protesting the routing of the proposed Amarillo-Canyon Expressway along the present proposed routes. They also questioned the feasibility and necessity of an expressway in any event.

The court received and acknowledged a letter from C. B. Adams, a property owner located on Highway 60 and 87, protesting the proposed routing of the expressway. Adams made an alternate proposal. This proposal was to run the expressway directly north-east from Hollywood station to intersect with Washington Avenue.

Commissioners Court was in unanimous agreement upon a resolution concerning the expressway. The resolution read: "The commissioners court of Randall county agrees to furnish the necessary right-of-way for the proposed Amarillo-Canyon Expressway, and a location designated by the state highway engineer that will serve the best interests of the community insofar as funds are available."

Mrs. Chester Dowell of Dumas spent the week-end with her mother and brother, Mrs. Ruth Hill and Lowell.

Two Given Five Year Sentences

A brief trial in 47th District Court Saturday ended with Judge Henry S. Bishop sentencing Charley Patterson and J. T. Pitcock to five years in the penitentiary for the Haney Switch Grain Elevator robbery last fall. The two men had been tried and sentenced in Panhandle before coming here. Both also have five years to serve before starting on either the sentence meted out at Panhandle or here.

J. T. Pitcock had served time in the penitentiary before. At the time the offenses occurred that he was being tried for, he was out under a five year parole for a former offense. He will serve this five year term before starting on the sentences given at Panhandle or here.

Charley Patterson will serve five years of a suspended sentence before he starts serving the sentence given him at Panhandle and here. He was given a seven year suspended sentence and two years of it were gone leaving five years to be served.

Burl Alfred Holly, the third person involved in the wheat theft, was not brought here for trial. Sheriff L. S. Johnston said he could see no reason to waste tax money trying Holly here when he had been tried on an habitual criminal charge in Panhandle and given life in the penitentiary.

Three Killed Plane Crash Near Silvertown

Mrs. Irving J. "Peggy" Francis died Tuesday morning as a result of injuries suffered Monday afternoon in an airplane crash near Silvertown. The death of Mrs. Francis brought the death toll to three resulting from the crash.

Mrs. Francis died at 3:30 Tuesday morning. She had suffered burns in the fatal airplane crash, the burns covered most of her body. The other two fatalities of the crash are believed to have been killed instantly at the time of the crash. They are Mrs. J. W. Reid, Jr., and Irving J. Francis.

J. W. Reid, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid of Canyon, is still in the Briscoe County hospital. His condition has been described as serious.

Reid was piloting the plane that carried the four adults and two children. They were taking off from a pasture and failed to clear some telephone lines which caught the plane and flipped it over into some power lines. The two children were thrown clear of the wreckage and not seriously hurt. The crash occurred on the farm of L. W. Francis, father of Irving J. Francis who died in the crash.

A neighboring farmer and Mr. Francis carried water to the scene of the crash in washtubs in a pickup truck. The Silvertown volunteer fire department was called to the scene and pulled the wreckage away from the power lines.

Funeral services for the three victims are being conducted in Silvertown today under direction of Douglas Funeral Home.

Mrs. A. Bailey Duncan of Roxton spent the week-end in the A. B. Duncan home. She was joined on Monday night by her husband, the Rev. A. Bailey Duncan, for a short visit, with his parents and aunt.

Canyon Wins Plaque on Sewer Improvement

Mayor A. L. Walsh recently received a letter from Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, informing him of a plaque to be given Canyon for the recent progress it has made in its sewage disposal and water works department. The letter received by Mayor Walsh follows:

"It is customary for this department to establish an honor roll for municipalities and other agencies operating water and sewage works to give recognition to those agencies for outstanding accomplishments during the year 1953. The honor roll is compiled on the basis of nominations and evidence submitted by our various district engineers.

"We are pleased to inform you that the City of Canyon was selected as the city having made the greatest improvement in its sewage treatment for the year of 1953. We have a plaque available which is to be presented to the city so honored. The presentation will be made at the annual banquet of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association's Short School which will be held Wednesday, March 10, commencing at 7:00 p.m. at College Station, Texas.

"We sincerely hope that it will be possible for you to have a representative present to receive the award. We should like to take this opportunity to congratulate you and your associates for your part in this attainment."

Mayor Walsh said he had hoped to attend the short school but found it impossible. George Lawson of the water department here will be present to claim the award and bring the plaque home.

Co. F To Award Lockhart Trophy

"William E. Lockhart trophy is being given by the National Guard Company F each year to the most outstanding soldier in that organization," said Captain Mabry Vandergriff Monday night. Candidates are selected for the award during the year and officers and master sergeants of the company make the final decision in giving the award at the end of summer camp. The large trophy is kept at the National Guard armory and a small trophy is given to the winner. Awarding of the trophy is made about Christmas time at the annual company party.

Captain Vandergriff, commanding officer, said competition is keen and that it is extremely difficult to select the winner. Last year's winner was Alvy L. (Mickey) King. Candidates are judged on the basis of esprit de corps, leadership, application, fellowship, interest, military courtesy and discipline, morale, stamina, character and ability.

The commanding officer said the public could help the morale of the boys by driving out to the armory on Monday nights and by watching the company's activities. The company is eager for the public to know that each and every member is doing his best. They are training to be soldiers and are receiving excellent instruction in this work. Captain Vandergriff says he wants each man out there to know every part of each weapon they have on the field before his training is completed.

Although the company has enlisted men from such places as Hereford and Friona, they still have several vacancies in that field. Anyone desiring to know full particulars of National Guard training should get in touch with Captain Vandergriff or Sergeant Hughes at the armory.

Local Firm Adds To Storage Space

Farmers Elevator here was approved for a loan to assist it in constructing additional facilities for storage of small grains, according to J. Frank Matchett, Dallas regional director of the Small Business Administration.

Twelve more tanks of concrete will be added as an annex to the present storage elevators with the $120,000 loan. John P. Taylor said the firm was working toward a storage capacity totaling 400,000 bushels. This means an addition of approximately 250,000 bushels of storage space. Taylor said actual construction of the additional storage should begin soon.

The loan, for $120,000, was approved for the local firm and was one of five announced as approved by the Small Business Administration.

The Citizens National Bank at Lubbock is handling the loan with the SBA agreeing to take 75% deferred participation.

Farmers Elevator was made a partnership in 1951. The partners are R. B. Elliott, B. R. Evans and J. P. Taylor. It now has four full time employees and is expected to require as many more as a direct result of the loan.

W. T. Rifle Team Is 9th

A five-man rifle team from West Texas State College's Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit placed ninth in the fifth annual Southwestern Smallbore Rifle Meet in El Paso, it was learned today.

Results of the match were announced by mail by Texas Western College officials, site of the firings. WT's team finished behind the University of California, U.C.L.A., Texas Western, Oklahoma A&M, University of San Francisco, University of Nevada, Texas A&M, and University of Oklahoma.

High score by California was 7582 in four appearances, and WT's score was 7353. High individual for West Texas was Benny George, Kress, with 1498 points, firing a 373, 374, 375, and 376 in four matches.

WT's team was the only group from 26 colleges in eight states using regular Army rifles. Other teams had special target rifles, according to Master Sergeant Clyde A. Thomas and James A. Colombo, who accompanied the boys.

West Texas defeated Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Texas Tech, and Arizona State at Tempe, and was defeated by 10 points by New Mexico Military Institute, in its four matches. Tempe was beaten for the first time this year.

Members of the West Texas team were George, Albert Linger, Canyon; Bob Weatherly, Wheeler; Darryl Powell, Pampa, and Tommy Pool, Groom. John Oldham, Canyon, was alternate.

Mrs. Virgil Martin of Lubbock was a business caller in Canyon this week, and visited with friends.

Report No Rabies 3 Dogs Destroyed

"No rabies have been reported among the local pets," Dr. J. L. Markham said Tuesday. Since the city ordinance took effect, the first of March, concerning stray dogs, three have been destroyed by being painlessly put to sleep.

Dr. Markham said a large number of local pets had been vaccinated but that there were still a great many that had not been vaccinated. One of the men who is working for the city is helping Sheriff Johnston pick up the stray dogs. The city is now maintaining a pound in which the dogs are kept. Dogs are kept in this pound 24 hours before being painlessly put to sleep. During this time anyone who wants to claim one of the impounded pets and give it a home may do so.

"Many people have a mistaken idea about allowing their pet to run out after it has been vaccinated," Dr. Markham said. "This does not conform with the city ordinance," he added. He went on to explain that a vaccinated dog running loose was in just as much danger of being picked up as one that had not been vaccinated. He said that all pet owners should make a special effort to keep their pets locked up in order to make sure they would not be picked up and impounded.

74 Four-Year Colleges Have Dropped Football Games

So far 74 four-year colleges in America have dropped football as being entirely unprofitable.

When the University of Chicago set the pattern by dropping football, fans gnashed their teeth and predicted a rough time for the University in the future.

The youthful president said that a great University stood for something more than a winning football team and stood his ground. He has stood pat through all of the demands for reinstatement of the game. Perhaps, now that he has retired, the trustees will see a different situation.

It is interesting to note that the radio and television have been blamed by most of the colleges who have closed ranks against the game. Too many folks are either listening to the broadcasts in the comforts of their homes, or seeing the game over television.

If and when those gentlemen who sell the rights of these games at fabulous prices fall down, many of the smaller colleges may return to the game.

A radio owner stated in Canyon the other day that he had no trouble in selling the broadcasts of his high school games at profitable prices last year, but conditions changed this year. This may not apply to all sections of the country but it applies to some.

Evangelist Billy Graham Has A Big Job Among Americans

Before Billy Graham landed in England we were pretty suspicious that he was being off more than he could chew.

Mr. Graham collected a vast campaign fund in America to pay the expense of a several which would now England from her untold ways. A number of Canyon people gave liberally into this fund.

While no one will chide this great evangelist for his ambitions to help save England, let it be remembered that religion was firmly established in England long before America was settled. England may be a sinful country, and the people may be neglecting their duties toward their church, but America has nothing to brag about. Not 50% of our people are members of any church; and unfortunately only about 10% of all church members attend church regularly.

While we are sending Billy Graham to England to save the nation, and sending vast amounts of money to save other nations, we have plenty of people here at home who are going to hell in a big way if we are to take the Bible as our guide.

More power to Billy Graham—in his native land.

Fanatics of Puerto Rico Not
Representatives of People

Puerto Rico fanatics who fired shots in the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C., were accomplishing no good for their little island.

The island has been offered as independence many times in the past, and each time the people voted against accepting independence. As the situation stands, as people are allowed free exit and entrance into the United States. Had the island been independent, the commoners could never have gained legal entrance into that nation. As the situation stands, there are 75,000 natives of Puerto Rico now living in New York City. Only a very few of these people supported those who shot down the Representatives of this government on the floor of Congress.

The last two attempted to shoot former President Harry S. Truman. The group which came to Washington the other day had instructions to shoot down President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other officials of our government.

These fools should learn that bloodshed and freedom are two opposite factors in this government.

Pampa Abstractor Lost in His Fight to Upset Law of State

The time was that any person could write legal documents and they would stand the test in court.

A recent session of the legislature passed a bill allowing the right of lawyers to pass upon titles, write wills and other kinds of legal documents. The idea is that it takes more time of the courts to untangle the errors of laymen than it takes lawyers to write the documents in the first place.

An abstractor in Pampa was the first victim of the new law here in the Panhandle. His case was passed upon by a district court judge, and he was barred from passing upon the validity of titles, which he had been doing for years past. Perhaps he knew more about titles than the lawyers of Pampa; but they have the law on their side and so that's that. The judge barred him, and therefore a lawyer must be called upon to draw all legal papers connected with real estate future deals in Canyon county.

Senator McCarthy Continues a
One-Man Fight Against Commies

Senator McCarthy is conducting a one-man campaign against Communism in this country. How Martin Dies of Texas longs to be in the place of McCarthy! How Dies would enjoy sitting across the table from witnesses and pour it on the backs of the witnesses!

Under a poll of newspaper men, it was found that McCarthy is not only hurting the Republican party but is likewise hurting the American cause abroad by his antics.

Changes come slowly in the Senate. McCarthy is likely to continue going his own way just so long as the President does not take a firm stand against him.

Duval County Mess Can Only
Be Cleared by Removing Trial

The Duval county mess continues. Three Federal Judges have heard the plea of George Parr, ruler of the little kingdom of Duval, that the federal government has no control over the rangers sent there to protect the rights of all citizens; but also rebuked the rangers for having slapped the defendant, George Parr and his nephew, the sheriff.

The only way that the affairs of Duval county may be cleaned up is to transfer the case to some county where George Parr is not running affairs, and allow justice to take its course.

The sooner this case is settled, the better it will be for the good name of the entire State of Texas.

Unsupported Charges by Wholly Unreliable Persons Defeated

At last Earl Warren was approved overwhelmingly by the Senate to become the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Simply because unsupported charges were made against Warren, his nomination was held up for several days while the witch burners of the Senate tried unsuccessfully to block his appointment by President Eisenhower. That is the way we do things in a Democracy. We allow the opposition all of the opportunities to expose the appointees of the President by the Senate, and then turn a deaf ear on those who would defame the name of good men. This way of throwing mud at officeholders is an old, old practice. The unsupported opposition to Warren was a slur on the good name of Earl Warren, but it is a just thing that little men prefer in politics.

The fact that Warren is now firmly seated on the Supreme Court adds dignity to that body, which has sunk pretty low in the estimate of the people. There has been more politics than justice in years past, but Warren will try to eliminate some of these troubles.

Pastor's Qualifications Have Related in Neighboring Paper

The Amarillo Register came up the qualifications which are necessary for a pastor. Whatever is true of a Catholic priest is likewise true of a Protestant pastor. Here they are:

A pastor must have these qualifications:
The strength of an ox.
The tenacity of a bulldog.
The daring of a lion.
The wisdom of an owl.
The harmlessness of a dove.
The industry of a beaver.
The gentleness of a sheep.
The versatility of a chameleon.
The skin of a rhinoceros.
The union of an eagle.
The perspective of a grackle.
The disposition of an angel.
The bounce of a kangaroo.
The imagination of an incurable.
The loyalty of an Apostle.
The faithfulness of an evangelist.
The devotion of a mother.
Even then he will not please everybody.

John C. White Would Like to
Be Governor of the State

John C. White, youthful Commissioner of Agriculture, wants to be Governor of Texas. He says so, and we believe his statement.

White was the only Democratic candidate who refused to allow his name to go on the ballot of the Republican candidates for public office in Texas. Not that the double filing made any difference, simply that White wanted a known that when he put on the brass collar of Democracy that he was going to stay under the rule of the party which elected him, regardless of whom his opponent might be.

Now White is seeking greater fields of conquest. He is hoping to take on the Governor of Texas. If White should decide to run for this office, it will be a battle royal between a master of politics and a rank amateur who so far has been very lucky.

Unless Shivers gets a raise in salary for the teachers of Texas without imposing the burden upon local school districts, he will face bitter opposition from the teachers of the state. This is some lobby and some handicap against Shivers.

White can say that he stands for more pay for the teachers, regardless of where the money comes from.

Gambling Does Not Pay, But
British Grocer Wins the Pot

We have been preaching for years that gambling does not pay!

Here we have the case of a grocer in England who bought 7 cents worth of chances in a football pool and won $171,483!

Of course other poor suckers had to put up the money in order that the grocer could win.

However, it is not the fact that the grocer won but the fact that he did not rush out and squander the money he won makes the story. He was at his place of business after announcement was made that he had won. "Because his customers expected him to give service."

That is really the type of person that we like to see win if and when they gamble. He will not be spoiled by this amount of money.

We have no idea as to the amount of taxes John Bull will collect from his winnings, but if he lived in America, Uncle Sam would take a good percentage of the win on his income tax bill.

Senator Bricker Is Not Unhappy
Over Amendment Defeat

If the Bricker amendment had been proposed during the Roosevelt or Truman administrations, it would likely have been passed. Those were the days when the presidents were signing secret agreements.

The Eisenhower administration has not been called upon to make any kind of war time treaties. The Russian Reds have not out-traded us—so far.

It is reported that even Senator Bricker is not badly humiliated because his proposal has been defeated. As a matter of fact, he was very cheerful over the deal whereby it was defeated and will not be submitted to the States.

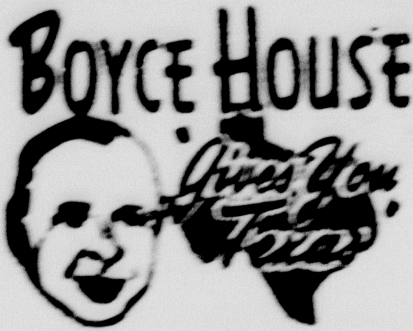

Most people forget governmental theories when they decide that some of the taxpayers' money ought to be spent for their benefit.

If you owe local merchants small items make a point to pay them up and keep your credit on a worthwhile basis.

Businesses grow when somebody mixes hard work and intelligent efforts; few men wake up to find themselves rich.

Persons anxious to protect the public morals ought to pursue some of the magazines that are being sent through the mails.

Judges are all right when they decide in your favor.

"When the Texas Guards the Camp" was Sam Houston's last speech and was made in Waco. Ladies and Fellow Citizens—With feelings of pleasure and friendly greeting, I once again stand before an assembly of my fellow-countrymen, who from their homes and daily toil, have come to greet once again, the man who so often has shown their kindness and affection.

I have been buffeted by the waves, as I have been borne along Time's ocean until shattered and worn, I approach the narrow straits, which divide it from the sea of Eternity beyond. Ere I step forward to journey through the pilgrimage of Death, I would say, that all my thoughts and hopes are with my country. If one impulse rises above another, it is for the happiness of this people; the welfare and glory of Texas will be the uppermost thought, while the spark of life lingers in this breast.

Without selfishness of heart, then, I meet you to talk, not of the past, but of the present and the future. The country demands the highest energies of the patriot to bear its victorious banners onward to peace and independence. Once I dreamed of empire, as vast and expansive for a united people, as the bounds of American civilization. The dream is over. The golden chain is broken. Let us gather up the links that remain to us, and, attaching with them our hearts, swear to resist to the last that worst of all tyranny, fraternal hate.

The proud achievements of the troops of Texas are above all praise. History furnishes us no other examples of heroism and constancy. I know of no battle where they have been engaged that they have not been chosen to bring on the fight. What battery has stood the force of their relentless charge? What retreat have they failed to cover? The flower of the foe has been cut down by their determined valor. Patient and enduring on the toilsome march, nonetheless and wary on the dangerous scout, swift and certain in the surprise and terrible as the tempest blast in the charge, they have proven themselves worthy the name of soldiers of liberty. If the world has ever known their superiority in valor, history gives not the example.

The gallant dead! How fell they? Heroes! thousands of whom have no monuments, save the memory of their everlasting valor. As the cannon's mouth where the foe stood thickest, in the deadliest charge, with the forlorn hope, on the perilous scout, or at the first breach, there lay the Texas! The soldier of liberty died for her sake.

"Leaving in battle not a blot on his name. He looked proudly to Heaven from the breast of fame."

Such men cannot be conquered. Massed together they would have checked the foe wherever he has gained a foothold on our soil. The nation recognizes them as the bravest of the brave. Generals aspire to command them, and the army sleeps secure when the Texas guards the camp.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Congressional Accomplishments

Congress as a whole does not have much to brag about in the way of accomplishments during the first two months of this session.

By "accomplishments" I mean legislative action carried through to finality. This does not mean that the work-load has decreased. The committees and individual Members of Congress have seen no idle hours since this session began.

Much of the proposed legislation should be ready for action by the full House membership. Many of the Members are getting restless because of the lack of activity on the House Floor. Much of the debate so far has been on relatively non-controversial matters or on items of minor importance when compared with the legislation that we know will have to be considered at this session.

Much of President Eisenhower's program could have been debated and passed by the House, as a substantial part of it will be non-controversial. That is, it will be non-controversial unless some jokers are slipped into the laws that are not in keeping with the aims expressed by Mr. Eisenhower in his State of the Union message.

A sizable part of his proposed program will be controversial. For that reason, the non-controversial matters should be disposed of at the earliest possible date so that plenty of time would be left for full debate on the controversial matters.

Sometimes when a large backlog of legislation is created and the time grows short before adjournment, legislation is adopted by a parliamentary body without proper consideration and debate. This is a very dangerous procedure and should never be employed. A large backlog of legislative matters also creates an opportunity for controversy to be raised over matters that otherwise would be non-controversial. This practice can force long delay of controversial matters that should be thoroughly explored and scrutinized.

Most of the House Members are very anxious to get the show on the road, so to speak, and not be faced with a shortage of time when we have to consider the big appropriations bills. Proper trimming of these bills requires time for study and debate after the bills are prepared by the committee and submitted to the full House membership.

Compulsory FEPC

In the opinion of many, the remarks of the Secretary of Labor, Mr. Mitchell, before a Senate committee, to the effect that he favored a compulsory FEPC law, were not accidental, extemporaneous, or a spur of the moment remark. Although these views were in conflict with the views expressed by the President, who has said that he favored a voluntary FEPC procedure, it is felt that the Mitchell remarks are a part of a softening-up process that has as its ultimate goal "compulsory FEPC."

Watch for more comments on the subject in the near future. If compulsory FEPC comes into being, it will affect every business in the nation. Many small merchants think they should not worry about this because they are not engaged in interstate commerce and will not be subject to the law. Many small businesses that were actually not engaged in interstate commerce as we had always known it, were, during recent years, DEFINED into interstate commerce. Those not already taken in by this method may well recognize that they are next in line.

The adoption of a compulsory FEPC law would mean the early inclusion of all you business folks in the realm of interstate commerce. I might point out that almost every farmer is included in interstate commerce by definition.

The only reason that the maximum hour and minimum wage provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act do not apply to the farmer, is because he is specifically exempt in the language of this act. A repeal of the exempting provisions of the act would immediately place the farmer under the minimum wage and maximum hour laws, whether he liked it or not.

If the Administration proposal to include an additional ten million under the social security program is realized, there will be a race on as to which covers the most Americans, social security or interstate commerce. And I thought we were going to DE-CENTRALIZE the government.

When federal laws are passed imposing obligations on "small business," the term goes clear down to the smallest hamburger stand. It is only when money is to be loaned by the government that the term "small business" includes only those businesses worth over half a million dollars, and excludes the small business establishments with whom we daily do business.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same washing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick Is Guest Speaker for Sue Hite Club Monday

Life in the pioneer days of the Texas Panhandle was described by Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick for members of the Sue Hite Club Monday at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Tracing the period from Coronado's entrance into the region in 1541 to Canyon's settlement as a town, Mrs. Warwick especially emphasized the problems of a pioneer housewife. She told of Mrs. John Adair's riding sidesaddle from Trinidad, Colo., to the Palo Duro when the Adairs and Goodnights came here in 1876 to found the JA Ranch. She told of Mrs. Goodnight's kindness to the cowboys of the lonely life she led until her first neighbor, Mrs. T. S. Bugbee, settled some 80 miles away.

Styles of early homes, from tents to various forms of dugouts, were described. Mrs. Warwick explained that water, housing and fuel were essential to pioneer existence. All three, she said, were scarce on the Texas High Plains. How early settlers supplied these needs in the face of difficulty formed the basis for several anecdotes.

Mrs. Warwick's talk was the club's feature for "Texas Day." Mrs. Hatcher Brown, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

After an invocation by Mrs. Loyd Devin, Mrs. Rex Reeves, president, presided at a business session. Mrs. Bill R. Lee, club chairman on Indian affairs, outlined several possible ways for the club to participate in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs program for aiding Indians, especially those at the reservation in Livingston, Texas. The club members decided to wait until their next meeting to decide what project to adopt.

Mrs. Loyd Devin, soil, water and wildlife conservation chairman, suggested that club members initiate conversations about conservation during the next two weeks.

Mrs. Mitchell Jones, chairman of veterans' affairs, announced that the club would seek a needy veteran's family in Canyon to aid. Mrs. A. L. Walsh will go to the Amarillo veteran's hospital to present a book review, and club members will collect paper-back books for the hospital. Mrs. C. Boone McClure was appointed by Mrs. Reeves to assist Mrs. Jones in the collection of books.

Final details were outlined for the chuck wagon supper to be held Wednesday (March 10) at 5:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. This dinner will be open to the public, proceeds to go to organizations aided each year by the Sue Hite Club. Dinner tickets may be purchased from club members, or at the door.

Hostesses, Mrs. W. A. Miller and Mrs. Borden Price, served cold drinks and cheese snacks.

Members present were: Mmes. Frank Barnhill, John E. Bowden, Hatcher Brown, R. C. Busted, M. R. Callahan, E. R. Cleavinger, Levi Cole, Clay Cooper, T. V. Crouse, Loyd Devin, Dennis Ford, D. M. Foster, W. F. Haggard, Crews Henry, Jack T. Hughes, R. P. Jarrett, Mitchell Jones, John Jennings, Bill R. Lee, M. B. Measmer, Boone McClure.

Elmer Wooten, superintendent of schools in Dumas, was a Canyon visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lehnick spent the weekend in Canadian with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Keahy.

Varied Program On AAUW Agenda

At the March meeting of the American Association of University Women, Dr. Lowell Harrison gave a brief resume of the arguments for and against the Bricker Amendment to the general meeting, and Mrs. Virgil Martin of Lubbock discussed "Creative Activities of Children with Poetry."

At the business session the nominating committee submitted the names of Mrs. Lowell Harrison, for president, Miss Gladys Armstrong for second vice-president and Mrs. Andy Walsh for secretary. The committee headed by Mrs. Dan Sanders stated that nominations from the floor were always in order. The election will be in April.

For April also the International Relations group has planned a program on United States-South American relations in connection with Pan-American Day. This program will be given April 12. Miss Darthula Walker is chairman of the International Relations group.

Cub Scouts of Den 5 held their regular den meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. John Robinson. The meeting was opened with the den yell. The Cubs will be practicing baseball when they finish their project. Meeting was closed with the pledge.

Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Moore and served to Dicky Campsey, Preston Prichard, Jerry and Robert Ham, Truitt O'Donald, Larry Moore, Johnny Sikes, Johnny Sims, Tommy Zachry, and Joe Carroll Robinson.

TO VISIT IN PANAMA

Mrs. S. B. Louder accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. C. Turner of Lubbock, will leave March 16 for New Orleans where they will sail on the S. S. Sixaola for Panama. They will visit Mrs. Louder's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chollar. Mrs. Chollar is the former Doris Louder. Mrs. Louder and Mrs. Turner plan to visit many points of interest South of the Border in their month or six weeks trip.

SAN ANGELO TEAM HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald were hosts to the coach, business manager, and 12 players of the San Angelo Junior College basketball team from Wednesday night until Sunday morning. The team was playing in the Junior College tournament in Amarillo. Don McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, is a guard on the San Angelo team.

Dr. Ruth Lowes reported on the progress of the American Heritage Project, and Dr. Lowes, Miss Jean Moore, Mrs. Joseph Findley, and Miss Jane Darland were appointed to decide for the AAUW whether it would be advisable for the Canyon branch to accept an invitation to be a pilot group in a nationwide study of present day education in the United States.

A special guest of the branch was Miss Enka Bronner of Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Davis of Jowell community, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bailey of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fewell and son, Bernard, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. ## Ben Buecker Talked Tuesday at Rotary Club German Trip

Ben Buecker of the Umbarger Community spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on the trip which he and all of his family made to Germany.

Mr. Buecker was introduced by J. D. Barker, who highly praised him as a leader in his community; in his church; in his school; and a man who had unusual patriotism. Born in Germany, he came to America in 1923; and after two years in Nebraska he came to Umbarger. He went to Germany in 1935 where he was married.

Mr. Buecker related the trip by plane to Germany and return in 1953, where he took all of his family. He spoke of the districts which he had seen bombed out during the war, but which are now rapidly being rebuilt with modern structures.

He enjoyed the visit with all of his brothers and sisters, who reside in Germany. He described farm work in the old country, and because of the rains little work is done except by hand.

The speaker scorned the idea of paying $1 per pound for coffee, which is selling in Germany at $4 per pound. Americans can buy a pound with a half hour's work, while it takes the Germans a full day to buy a pound of coffee.

There were plenty of cars, but gasoline sells at 3 to 4 times the price as sold in America.

He pronounced the schools good, but badly overcrowded. At one time 10,000 people from East Germany crowded across the line, leaving everything they had, to live in West Germany. The people are more afraid of the Russians than they are Communism.

Mr. Buecker stated that the people had no choice as to Hitler. They thought he would be a good ruler until it was too late and they could not get rid of him. America is feeding the refugees from the East.

The speaker said that he felt blue when he left his native Germany, but after one good rain in October he was glad that he had left. "There is no better place in the world than Randall county," was his final statement.

Twenty visitors were present at the luncheon.

Louis H. Seay is home on a 30-day leave to visit with his father, J. N. Seay.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

Mr. Eisenhower's next vacation is expected to take him to Augusta, Ga., in April. Plans are being laid for a six to eight weeks' vacation in Colorado for summer. Frequent Eisenhower vacations are on doctor's orders, to give the President needed exercise.

The President left a tacit promise in California that he would revisit that State in the autumn to help out Republican candidates for office. The President, however, prefers Georgia and Colorado as quiet vacation spots.

Present intention of Mr. Eisenhower, revealed to close friends, is to be a one-term President, but party leaders remain convinced that he will change his mind and seek a second term as a matter of duty.

Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Senator, is counted upon by the White House to carry the brunt of campaigns to unseat five Democratic Senators next November. The President is not planning to get into a political fight with the Senator, and Senator McCarthy knows it.

Robert Stevens, Secretary of the Army, got boxed in with his attempt to make a stand against Senator McCarthy, who dressed down an Army general. Mr. Stevens, new to politics, was not aware of how fast practical politicians can work and how written promises can come back from the past to complicate life.

William Knowland, California Senator and Majority Leader in the Senate, is discovering that Democrats are fast operators in the art of parliamentary maneuver. Democratic leaders are indicating quietly that they expect to be able to take over the initiative in the Senate, leaving only nominal control to the Republicans.

Ezra Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, apparently is not to be in heavy demand as a campaign speaker in Republican farm districts this year. Republicans in Congress from farming areas are slow to line up back of the Benson plan for flexible support of farm prices.

George Humphrey, Treasury Secretary, has convinced President Eisenhower that he made a mistake when he hinted, on advice of the White House staff, that personal exemptions from tax might be raised on 1954 income. Mr. Humphrey is having troubles enough now trying to make ends meet without voluntarily giving away 2.3 billion dollars in revenue through higher exemptions.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is having trouble trying to draft a bill that will give the country a plan for reinsuring private health insurance programs without opening the door to Government control over insurance companies and without alarming medical groups that are fearful of governmental ventures into the medical field.

Workers laid off by John L. Lewis's Mine Workers Union discovered that their union agreement did not contain a seniority clause. Some of those fired in the reduction of pay rolls claimed that newer employees kept on the job were related to officials of the union.

President Eisenhower, just as other Presidents before him have done, is giving thought to ways of having an American envoy assigned to the Vatican. The catch continues to be that Congress is not anxious to vote to create an Embassy and the Vatican is not enthusiastic about getting a sort of nonofficial personal envoy from the President.

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and American diplomats got taken to the cleaners by V. M. Molotov, Russia's Foreign Minister, just at the close of the latest meeting of diplomats in Berlin. Insiders say it's now clear that Russia's game all along was to use talk of European problems as a come-on to entice U. S. into agreement for talks on a truce in the Indochina war. It's explained that truce at this time will involve concessions to Communists that can lead to a take-over by them in years to come.

It was a close decision in the National Security Council that is resulting in military aid to Pakistan over the objection of India's Jawaharlal Nehru. Aid, small at the start, will grow.

High military officials are alarmed by willingness of U. S. diplomats to dicker with Communists over Indochina before a victory for the non-Communist side. Elements of the Department of State in Paris are described as not too perturbed over implications of a Communist take-over, if one should come in Indochina.

Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary, is telling Winston Churchill that Molotov is in command of Russian foreign policy and that there is nothing to be gained from any top-level conference of Churchill, Malenkov, Eisenhower and French Premier Laniel. Now that a Big Four conference is being forgotten, Mr. Churchill again is giving thought to retirement in May.

Mao Tse-tung, China's Communist dictator, is moving North Koreans out of North Korea and moving Chinese in. Resettled with Chinese, North Korea today is regarded as incorporated into Communist China and not a subject of negotiation at Geneva, Switzerland, or anywhere else.

Wendesday Lion Program Given At High School

Wednesday in observance of Public Schools Week, the Lions ate lunch in the high school cafeteria and also enjoyed a meeting at the school house. The program given was on the 100th anniversary of Texas Public Schools. Supt. Joe A. Gibson welcomed the Lions to the school with a short address and Miss Ellen Johnson, speaker for the FTA, was introduced by Mrs. T. E. Beard.

Miss Johnson spoke on the value of education and outlined the early history of public education in this state. One of the main points made in her talk was that all persons should keep in touch with the schools.

A detailed report concerning the advance of education in Texas was given by Lucy Hollabaugh. Also included in the speech were such points as the creation of independent school districts in 1875, and the passage of compulsory education law in 1915.

Sophomore girls sang a song popular in the early part of the century. Wanette Green gave the tribute to the state's pioneers of education. She reported that 35 girls are members of the Future Teachers of America local chapter.

A junior sextet sang "Serenade of the Bells," and a brass section of the Canyon band played "Surrey with the Fringe on Top." The program ended with everyone singing "The Eyes of Texas."

Supt. Joe Gibson presented a cash gift to Miss Bronner from the Lions. Miss Bronner is a visiting teacher from Germany. Ericka Bronner and Mrs. Joe Findley were the two women to visit the Lions Wednesday.

Other visitors included L. D. Ball, Baptist preacher from Lamesa, and Carlos Gruber, song leader for the Baptist revival, as guests of Lion Strauss Atkinson. Three guests of Lion Gibson were Ollie Olson, Houston Spikes, and Bill Brown.

Barkley is said to be pondering a comeback via a race for the Senate.

65% of Cars Are Inspected

AUSTIN: If Texas motorists continue getting their autos inspected at the same rate that they are currently, there will be no chance of a "log jam" at the inspection stations prior to the April 15th deadline.

That was the opinion today of Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, who complimented the 65% of Texas car owners who have already had their vehicles checked for mechanical defects. At the same time, he passed on a repeated word of warning to nearly a million other motorists who have neglected, thus far, to meet the requirements of the State's motor vehicle inspection law by reminding that approved stickers must be on cars after April 15th or the owners will face court action.

George W. Busby, chief of the Safety Department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, announced that inspections are now being conducted at the rate of 150,000 weekly and that no stations are experiencing a capacity business.

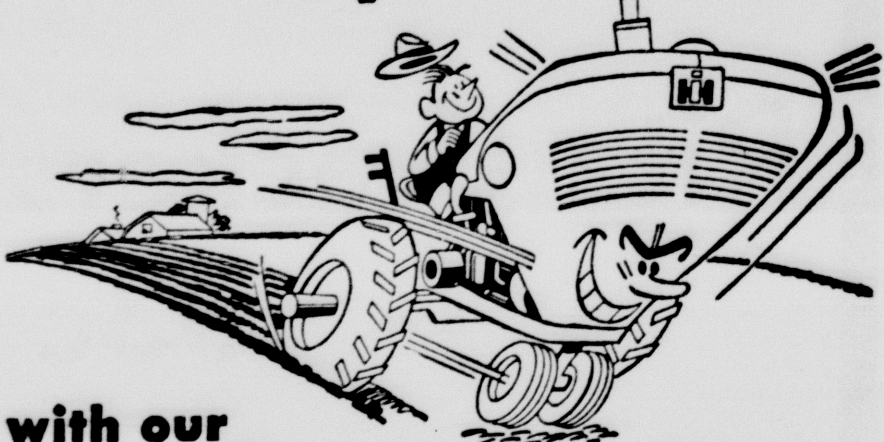

"In the six weeks remaining before the inspection deadline," Busby said, "the licensed stations will be fully capable of taking care of every vehicle in the State remaining to be checked without undue waiting or inconvenience unless too many folks put off having their autos inspected until the last minute."

AIR FORCE "PUNY"

Testifying before a Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Subcommittee, Alexander P. de Seversky, pioneer aircraft designer, declared that a future world war would be decided entirely by air power and the decisive blows would be struck in the opening days. Therefore, he thought the long range bombing force of the United States was "puny" and so small "they would be overwhelmed and defeated in their first attempt."

New Maps of Hiways Complete

AUSTIN: Publication of the Official Highway Travel Map for 1954 was announced in Austin today by D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, and it is now available for free distribution.

Incorporating many changes and new features, it is believed that this is one of the best travel maps the Highway Department has published, Greer stated. For the first time this year type has been used for all names and symbols appearing on the map, instead of the hand lettering previously used.

A motor reword here has its full rated horsepower — the work is superlatively done by specialists and is wholly guaranteed. Regardless of type, size, make — we can service your electric motors perfectly, economically.

This greatly improves legibility of all names.

A different size and type face was selected for the various categories of names that appear on the map; counties appear in one type, cities of similar population density will have the same size type; mountains will have their own lettering style, while rivers will appear in still another size and type face, Greer stated. In all, 33 different styles and sizes of type were ordered for the new map.

Over 1300 villages, towns, and cities are to be shown on the new guide. Each of these falls into one of the five population categories — towns of less than 1,000 persons, towns up to 5,000, those with 25,000, and cities with populations up to 100,000. After a city's population passes this mark, Greer said, it will be shown as a stripped outline of the city limits. Thirteen insets of Texas' largest towns showing highway routes through these towns are continued in the margins of the map again this year.

For the past two years the Department has been attempting to develop a relief base for the travel map that would succeed in showing the contours of the land to better advantage without adding to the expense of the printing, Greer said. This year a method has finally been developed to show a true relief which can be reproduced in brown, conforming to all standard cartographic relief practices.

Also to improve the legibility of the map and to allow for the showing of more detail, the width of the highway bands has been reduced in size on the 1954 map. This is a particular advantage around cities where several highways converge, Greer pointed out.

He went on to say that Texas is so large that any attempt to map it at a scale that will accommodate all information of interest to tourists would not be practical. The size of road maps has been fairly well standardized all over the United States, and any attempt to squeeze Texas onto the same size sheet of paper required by the average state must necessarily prohibit the use of much interesting information.

All items that render service to the traveling public are clearly designated including roadside parks, historical points of interest, state and national parks, and tourist information bureaus. A mileage index, which shows the distance between principal cities in Texas, is also compiled for the users assistance.

The Department usually receives about one-half million requests each year for a copy of the travel map. Copies may be obtained free of charge from any of the district highway offices in the state, the travel information bureaus, or by writing direct to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas.

Tax Relief?

Senator George of Georgia has proposed increasing personal income tax exemption from the present $600 a year to $800 this year and $1,000 next year.

For a married man with two children, this would mean additional personal exemptions this year of $800 for his family. The income tax rate is roughly 20 percent. Under Senator George's proposal, the man's 1954 income tax would be reduced by $160. Next year's saving would be $320.

Senator George feels his plan is the proper approach to head off a serious downturn in the economy. President Eisenhower has indicated that if employment does not rise in March, it will be a signal for the Government to take steps.

Manpower Saving

When I was serving as chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee, I brought to light many instances of waste of military manpower.

The Defense Department has just announced, after a review of manpower needs, that about 160,000 military jobs previously authorized have been eliminated. The review eliminated 69,000 personnel and permitted the reassignment of 91,000 personnel from non-combat to combat jobs.

Air Academy

When Air Force Secretary Talbott appeared recently before the Senate Armed Services Committee, I questioned him at length about reports that he had ruled out all proposed Air Academy sites in Texas. He had been quoted in newspaper stories to that effect.

The Secretary denied the accuracy of the stories. He said he has not ruled out either Randolph Field, Grapevine or Texhoma as a possible site.

Tin Smelter

After the Bolivian Ambassador came by my office to confer about the matter, I asked the Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee to have a study made of proposals to shut down the tin smelter at Texas City. I also have written the President that closing it down could adversely affect the national security.

The Texas City plant is the only smelter in the Western Hemisphere which handles low-grade tin concentrates from Bolivia. It was a lifesaver in World War II. We might need it again.

Noble Service

Forty-one years ago, as of March 4, the Fourth District of Texas sent a young man named Sam Rayburn to Congress. He has been here ever since, elected for 21 consecutive terms. During that time he has served longer as Speaker of the House than any other man in our history. A great Texan—a great American!

News Briefs

Committee hearings will begin next week on general farm legislation. Secretary Dulles reported to a group of congressional leaders on the Berlin meeting. I was in the group hearing the report. Joel Cypress of Wichita Falls, national "Voice of Democracy" contest winner, came in to see me. Several Texans testified before Senate Appropriations Committee on behalf of various projects: Judge Theodore Robinson and Commissioner Teromini, Galveston Seawall; Byrd Harris and Orin Carr, Port Aransas-Corpus Christi Waterway; Richard Furman and J. E. Pickering, Guadalupe River Channel to Victoria. I tried to be as helpful as possible. School supervisors and school board members, on their way to Texas from their Atlantic City Convention, met with me in Vice President Nixon's office. Brief talks were made to them by the Vice President and Senators Price Daniel, Knowland and George. Had the pleasure of speaking before the Congressional Secretaries' Club, of which I was president years ago. Lewis Cope of Marshall, son of my old friend, Marshall Cope, was a pleasant visitor.

Building Permits Dip in February

Three building permits were issued during the month of February for a total of $18,500, almost a $30,000 dip below the month of January. A permit for one $10,000 residence was issued on February 2. On February 17 a permit was issued for an addition to a residence at a total of $300. The final February permit was issued on the 18th for the construction of a cinder block service station totaling $8,000.

During the month of January the building permits reached a total of $47,350. Six permits were issued for the month of January. During the final month of 1953 building permits totaled only $8,000. The high and low periods of building continue as February dips considerably below January. March permits will probably climb steeply over the total permits issued in February.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment rose more than seasonally in January, reaching 2,400,000. This was half a million more jobless than in early December, and about double the exceptionally low level of unemployment reached last October.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Congress Under Fire (Literally)

The House of Representatives convened at high noon March 1 and a prayer was offered by the Rev. Braskamp, Chaplain. Routine business was disposed of and debate commenced on whether or not the House would consider a bill amending the so-called Mexican Labor Bill. The plan had been to consider and dispose of this particular piece of legislation on Monday.

Business proceeded as usual, with Members working between the floor and their offices and committee rooms, meeting their numerous commitments and following the debate as it moved to conclusion.

The debate was concluded, the Speaker counted a quorum and put the question to the House on the Resolution. A division was demanded and the ayes were called upon to stand.

I was voting aye and remained standing until the entire count had been concluded. Just as the Speaker finished the count, and before I had sat down, the usual hush came over the House, waiting for him to call upon the noes.

At this precise time the House Chamber was filled with sharp staccato reports that resembled a whole package of firecrackers being set off at once. Everyone, from the Speaker to the page boys, was taken by complete surprise.

I began to search for the source of the noise from where I stood, and located it immediately in the southwest corner of the House gallery. A foreign looking woman was firing a gun above her head and was flanked by two foreign looking men who were firing straight to the House floor. There appeared to be another man leaving the House gallery through the door at that particular moment.

Just as I saw what was going on, the woman unfurled a flag. She was screaming something in a foreign accent, shooting and unfurling the flag at the same time. I immediately recognized the flag as Puerto Rican. I knew then that this was no publicity scheme, and immediately fell to the floor behind a row of seats.

Many of the Members thought that they were shooting blanks. I discounted this theory immediately when I saw one of them go through the ceiling. The cracking of the guns stopped, and I stood up again.

The woman ran out the gallery door and left the two men standing there. One of them had a long-barreled revolver that resembled a Luger, and the other had a short pistol that looked to be fully automatic. They were both trying to reload their guns when a spectator in an adjacent section of the gallery, who turned out to be Frank Wise, displayed the greatest courage of the entire incident. He ran across the section in which the men were located and grabbed the smaller man, pinning his arms to his side.

However, the Puerto Rican had both hands on the gun and was still trying to reload it. It was right in the stomach of the spectator. Had the gunman been able to get a shell in the chamber, the spectator would, no doubt, have been killed.

The gunman was whirled around by this brave man and shoved out the gallery door. While this was going on, the other gunman was trying to reload his gun and had it pointed right at the base of the spine of Frank Wise. Obviously, he was unable to get a shell in the chamber, and Frank Wise is still alive today. In short, this courageous spectator missed death twice by a split second, within a split second. He is certainly entitled to the highest acclaim and commendation of all the people of this country for his brilliant display of unselfish courage, in the face of what could have been immediate death.

I did not realize that anyone had been hit until the assassins were out of the House gallery. I then glanced two seats in front of me and saw my good friend, Congressman Cliff Davis, of Tennessee, with a bullet hole in his leg. Everyone was trying to help the wounded and find out how many had been struck. Cliff was very calm and remained seated until medical aid came. This was certainly in his best interest.

Congressman Bentley, of Michigan, who was the hardest hit of the group, was lying in the well of the House, just to the west of the Speaker's stand. One look at the man left no doubt that he had been hit and hit hard.

Congressman Ken Roberts, of Alabama, was lying on the other side of the Chamber and near the east door. He had been struck by a bullet above the knee and was bleeding profusely. Quick-thinking Percy Priest, of Tennessee, made a tourniquet out of his tie, using a fountain pen for pressure, and stopped the flow of blood. Ken was hit pretty bad and had all of us worried for awhile, but he seems to be getting along a little better as this letter is being written.

Congressman Ben Jensen, of Iowa, was struck just as he was trying to leave the Chamber after the firing started. He was very fortunate that his wound was not a great deal more serious, as he was hit in the back.

Congressman Fallon, of Baltimore, Maryland, was struck in the hip. They had removed him to the cloakroom by the time I was able to locate him. He seems to be getting along fine, although suffering a most painful wound. We are all praying that these splendid men have quick recoveries and are back with us doing the grand job for their constituents for which they are noted.

Several of the Texas delegation were seated in the approximate center of the House of Representatives. Brady Gentry, of Tyler, was just in front of me and directly behind Cliff Davis, who was hit. Frank Ikard, of Wichita Falls, and Lloyd Bentsen, of the Rio Grande valley, were seated on the same row with me. Directly behind us was Frank Wilson, of Dallas. Wingate Lucas, of Fort Worth, and several others.

John Lyle was standing just behind the rail with John Riley, of South Carolina. They ducked down just in time to dodge a bullet that splattered into the panelling at the back of the Chamber. The same thing happened to Albert Thomas, of Houston, and Wright Patman, of Texarkana. They were standing near the rear of the Chamber and were missed by a fraction of an inch. They were in direct line with a bullet that imbedded itself in the panelling just behind the pages' bench. Two page boys were on the bench and had just bent over. Had they been sitting up, the bullet would probably be in the head of one of them.

Time and space will not permit me to tell many more interesting things that happened, but I did want you to have a first-hand report on this event.

The office of the Honorable Antonio Fernos-Isern, Resident Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, is numbered 1710 Mine is 1712. There has been a constant guard in front of his office since the shooting in the House Chamber. The Commissioner is a splendid fellow, as is Governor Munoz Marin. Why anyone would want to kill them is more than I can understand.

Foul Language

Do you think before you speak, or do you speak before you think? Apparently some students in Canyon High School have spoken before they thought for they have said things that are not becoming to them or to other people who hear them.

Students who have the habit of using foul language freely, anywhere, at any time, usually are the ones who do not have a very high goal in life. Sometimes when we become angry or highly emotional we use foul language to let off steam. Other times it is used just to be cute and to show off.

Foul language can give you nothing but embarrassment and it certainly isn't a very cute way to show off.

Don't make a fool out of yourself but think before you speak and have people enjoy your company instead of dread it.

Free Conscience?

Gossip or false rumors can put a person, group, or organization in an embarrassing situation.

"A groundless rumor or idle talk, not always true," defines gossip clearly. Such idle talk may be stretched or added on to as it goes from one person to another.

A person may spread untrue statements in an attempt to gain public favor. Jealousy or prejudice may be other causes for creating gossip.

Take this incident for an example. One school club was a hard-working one, and raised money to finance the yearly expenses. Another club was divided, and could not work together. Attempts to raise money were useless, and this caused considerable friction between the two groups.

The less fortunate club began telling tales of woe, and in doing this, gossip started circulating. Other people may have felt sorry for the group, and left out the true facts of the story to the benefit of the unhappy club.

An important thing to remember is to always make sure a story is true before it is repeated. Never misquote a person, as this is another method of starting gossip. Never repeat anything that might injure a person's feelings or reputation.

How free is your conscience?

Senior Teens

Teen number one is 4'8" and weighs 150 lbs. He was born Aug. 16, 1935. A pleasant smile, cheerful disposition make up the personality of this dark blonde haired, blue-eyed senior. You will recognize him for his outstanding abilities shown in various sports, which are his hobby. Speech is the subject best liked by him.

He is a member of one of the "future" clubs. Various club and class honors have been held by this individual. Teen one plans to enter the field of coaching at West Texas State College. His favorite song is "Down Hearted." In the literary field Yellow Eyes is his favorite novel. "He tends to create fun wherever he is," said a friend of this senior.

Those seniors had a pretty good play last week, didn't they, but it wasn't near as good as the senior play Ole Cal's class gave. It was a sequel to "The Perils of Paulene" called "The Jeopardies of Jane."

Ole Cal played the male lead, dashing, handsome, daring, not just plain Bill. The feminine lead, Jane Slopinhash, was played by Marie Barfly.

It had an exciting plot. Jane and Bill met in the bar where Jane spent all her time. Jane's sister Sue was shot in a gang war in the bar, and Bill was wounded while defending her, and Jane stood at the bar sipping up beer. The play ended when the supply of beer ran out.

We gave our sponsor a new bucket for slopping the hogs after the first act and then sponsored a hog calling contest for entertainment. The entertainment after the second act almost stopped senior plays for all time. We had a beauty contest, and all the ladies pulled up their dresses till their ankles showed. It shore caused a commotion among the men.

They had a party for the cast on the stage after it was all over. It was late getting started because they were picking up all the tomatoes and cabbage off the stage for the cafeteria. Times haven't changed so much have they?

Mrs. Smatz's little girl came and played the piano for our party, and little Randolph Snodgrass played his violin.

You'd be surprised how that play affected us kiddies. Ole Cal is still dashing, handsome, and daring, and you ought to see that Marie sop up beer.

CHS Joins Nations In Day of Prayer

Observance of the World Day of Prayer was held in Canyon High at 11:15 a. m. on March 5. Dovie Keene, junior SFC representative, read the prayer over the public address system.

This observance is sponsored by the General Department of United Church Women National Council of the Churches of Christ.

The day of prayer, always held on the first Friday in Lent, was observed in 118 countries, and in 19,000 communities in the U. S. It began at dawn in the Tonga Islands, and ended on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

Joe's Blows

The Senior All-Stars and the Football Faculty fought it out in the Canyon Grade School gym last Tuesday night, March 9. The game was put on by the seniors in an effort to raise money for the senior trip. Also the Canyon exes and the Canyon futures played.

The Canyon exes were made up of seniors who played on the "A" team in basketball. The futures were made up of players who will be around next year. These two games were interesting to watch and those who missed it, missed a couple of good games.

Another sport that has not only been growing in CHS, but all over Texas is tennis. "Tennis is a game of the mind, of real educational value," said Dr. D. A. Penick, Texas University coach. I agree on this and I wish the tennis team as well as other teams good luck this year in whatever they undertake.

The Meaning Public Education Has For Me

Webster defines education as the process of teaching, or as a course of study and training. To educate is to develop and cultivate mentally and morally. Public is defined as of, or relating to, the whole, serving all. Thus, public education is the process of teaching the public to develop it mentally and morally. This sums up in a few words the hundred years' work of those stalwart individuals who realized the vast educational needs of our infant republic in our early days, and to those who today are striving so valiantly to improve and advance our educational standard.

Public education benefits a country in numerous, important ways. Of these, I feel that perhaps the most important is the opportunity it presents to every person to raise himself above the realm of the illiterate. It provides the chance for an individual to "find" himself, to discover what profession he is most suited for and would be happiest in. That is why our country is what it is, a nation devoted to industrial enterprise instead of pastoral pursuits.

Public education helps to break down the eternal problem of the caste system and race problem, the offspring of ignorance. Although ours is a country without a truly visible class division, that intangible prejudice existing in any civilization is ever-present. Public education provides the battleground where these biased opinions may be wiped out. For example, race prejudice is apparent to any outsider in our country, especially in some sections. This prejudice is slowly being broken down due to education. Not only is the Negro rapidly gaining acceptance in our country, but through education he is advancing himself in our modern world.

The advantages of public schools are too numerous to list. Compare a country with a public education system with one that provides no such system and you will see a greater lesson than ever could be written.

To the person who goes through this system, it is a collection of wonderful, nostalgic memories. Whether it be a small frame structure in the country, or a huge gleaming edifice in a crowded, noisy city, it is still the memory of long-cherished pals, the joy of discovery of the magic words and numbers, the Christmas party and the Halloween carnival, the painful memory of lessons not learned, the joyful recollection of things achieved, the memory of faces whom you so wanted to please, the sad reluctance mixed with expectancy as the doors of the schools burst open in September, the wild exuberant rush of the last days, the proud look on your folks' faces when at last you receive your diploma, and, finally, that satisfied feeling when you stand tensely with classmates on graduation, diplomas clutched tightly in your hands.

Yes, education is all this and more. It is a symbol, a working faith in our country. Thank you, America, for seeing our needs and giving us our public schools to attend. And please, God, don't ever let them be taken from us.

Canyon FHA Chapter Is Hostess to Texas Homemakers Area I Meet

Approximately 2600 girls attended the Area I FHA meeting held in the West Texas State Fieldhouse of which the Canyon Chapter was hostess Saturday, March 6.

Jackie Reeves, Area president, was presiding. Sue Keeling, Canyon FHA president, gave the welcome, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSC, gave the main address. An official welcome from local and area FFA chapters was made by Norman Tucek, Area FFA president.

Stunts from each chapter were presented and the winners will be presented at the State FHA meeting.

The House of Delegates elected the 1954-55 officers from the slate of nominees which were installed later in the afternoon. The officers for the coming year included Marcus Robinson of Canyon High School who was elected sergeant-at-arms at the area election.

Marcus Robinson was the only candidate from Canyon and Sue Keeling was the voting delegate.

Manitowoc, Wis. — Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Wagner have a "football team" all their own, composed of their 11 sons. Some are too young to play, however, as their ages range from 14 down to six months. There isn't a girl in the family.

Senior Class Gives Appreciation Gifts

"It was different, and it was a challenge to help direct," said Mrs. Cecil Simms about the 1954 senior play. Mrs. Simms was presented a waffle iron, and Eddie Conner, co-sponsor, received an electric razor as appreciation gifts from the class.

Modern Gettysburg Address

One score and sixteen years ago our fathers brought forth unto this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game. Now we are engaged in a great mass calculation, testing whether that taxpayer, or any taxpayer so confused and impoverished can long endure. We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who spend their lives that they may spend our money. It is altogether an anguish and torment that we should do this.

But in a legal sense we cannot evade, we cannot cheat, we cannot understand or estimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who computed here have gone far beyond our poor power to add and subtract. Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we pay here, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue can never forget what we report here.

It is for us, the taxpayer, rather to be devoted here to the tax return which the government has thus for so nobly spent, dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining; that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in the higher income bracket; that this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions; and that taxation of the people, by the congress, for the government, shall not cause our solvency to perish from the earth.

AUSTIN: Plenty of political friction is coming up between now and election time despite the "harmony" convention of young democrats at Mineral Wells. Any harmony at that meeting resulted from the fact that one faction, the liberals, stayed away.

National and state party leaders called the gathering for the purpose of trying to recognize the Young Democrats and bring both factions together.

Representatives of both camps were placed on the reorganizing committee. Despite these efforts, however, dissension flared up as a prelude to the Mineral Wells convocation.

Liberal Young Democrats announced that they would boycott the meeting, charging that it will be dominated by conservative friends of Governor Allan Shivers.

Shunning the "harmony" convention, the liberal Young Democrats insisted that their get-together in San Antonio last year was legal.

A feature of the confab was a panel discussion Friday afternoon, billed as an "open and frank discussion of party politics."

Others on the program included Governors Shivers, Johnston Murray of Oklahoma and Frank Clement of Tennessee; Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson, National Committeewoman Hilda Weinert of Seguin and State Democratic Chairman Wallace Savage of Dallas.

Interested parties, while they waited on a court decision in the George Parr case, went back to Duval County.

Parr had asked for an injunction against Rangers Alfred Allee and Joe Bridge. The Duke of Duval said he feared the Rangers would harm him.

Arthur Garfield Hays, renowned New York attorney representing Parr, told the three federal judges trying the case at Houston that they should "do something constructive to prevent bloodshed in Duval County."

Hays said the Rangers are "men of zeal who think they are doing good." A man like Captain Allee, the attorney declared, can be both honest and dangerous when he takes civil law in his own hands, and "we have to kill this idea of Rangers being above the law."

Frank Knapp, Houston attorney representing the Rangers, summed up their case by saying:

"It is crystal clear that there is no law of Duval County as free men would have it as long as the Rangers are not there."

"Lurking in the background and shadows of this case are thousands of Duval County citizens who have been oppressed by ruthless and unconscionable actions of which only the faintest outlines are visible in this courtroom."

As the attorneys checked the federal judges, the Rangers and Parr headed back to Duval County.

So did Attorney General Shepperd, who said he will continue his investigation of alleged irregularities in the Benavides and San Diego school districts and in Duval County public offices.

On the horizon was a special session of the Legislature, called by Governor Shivers for the purpose of providing a raise in pay for the public school teachers.

Other objectives of the session were to raise money for needed state buildings, give pay boosts to state employees, and set heavy penalties, including death, for Communists.

Shivers had what has been described as a compromise plan to up the income of teachers by $402 per year, and he said he would specify, when the time comes, the tax measure necessary to raise the necessary funds.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt was at odds with the governor on his plan.

In the Speaker's opinion, the so-called "compromise plan" would play havoc with the Gilmer-Aikin school program.

Senterfitt offered his own program for increased teacher pay. He said the amount of salary raise for teachers should be based on what the Legislature can raise by taxation — not by what the teachers would like it to be.

There were some suggestions as to how the money might be raised. Representative Joe Pool of Dallas thought about higher taxes on beer, and said that he would introduce a bill embodying that proposal.

While he did not say what rate of taxation he had in mind, Pool did tell reporters that a $10 per barrel levy would be enough to boost teachers' pay and build some state buildings.

The present state tax on beer is $137 per barrel, or about a half a cent per bottle.

Representative Gilbert M. Spring of Apple Springs, Trinity County, had another idea. He wants to quit giving tax exemptions on cigarettes sold at army posts in Texas.

The federal government collects its cigarette tax at army camps, Spring reasoned, so why shouldn't the state do likewise?

Comptroller Robert Calvert estimated that if the state should collect taxes on cigarettes sold at army posts in Texas, the revenue would amount to about $1 million per year.

Other suggestions as to raising money for teachers included a tax on natural gas to replace the levy recently declared invalid by the U. S. Supreme Court.

But you could depend upon it: any time a tax was suggested, the prospective victim rose up and asserted himself.

For example, M. D. Bryant, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association promised that his group would fight any increase in the taxes on gas and oil.

"One thing is certain," said Bryant. "Producers and royalty owners already pay more than their share of state taxes."

TIPRO's reaction may be regarded as typical. Any business or industry which finds itself in the position of being eligible for taxation will indubitably rush to explain why it should not be taxed any more.

Thus you can see that the job of the Legislature is going to be nothing like sitting under the peach tree waiting for the fruit to drop.

When the legislators convene, they will be greeted by an encampment of old people, gathered here to demand more money in the form of pensions.

Jack Ballard of Wichita Falls, president of the Good Citizens League of Texas, announced that between 10,000 and 40,000 old people will camp on the capitol grounds during the special session, pending action on their grievances.

Already, Ballard said, he has letters from 3,000 persons who say they will make the march to Austin.

Legislators, contends Ballard, "have made promises to the old folks and failed to keep them," and "We're going to stay there until legislation is passed to help us . . . we want legislation raising the pensions to a minimum of at least $40 per month and we want the maximum to be $90. There will be no compromise."

Ballard said he had written Governor Shivers, among others, about the old folks' problems, but doesn't expect a reply from the governor. On the other hand, "I expect him to dodge the issues."

Ernest O. Thompson announced that he will be a candidate for another term as railroad commissioner.

Thompson has been serving on the commission since 1932 and has been re-elected ever since that time.

Secretary of State Howard Carney announced the appointment of Omar Briggs, former state representative from Denison, as Texas Securities Commissioner. He succeeds Harry Hilgers, who died recently.

SHORT SNORTS: The State Highway Commission announced a $2,394,800 repair program for 1,867 miles of the state's farm road system . . . Wichita Falls State Hospital is carrying a patient load of 25 per cent above desirable capacity, according to a report of State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Shepperd Renders Various Opinions

Austin: Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has released a list of all opinions of his office for the month of February. The office received 167 requests for advice or opinions and closed 167 opinion files during the month.

In the first two months of 1954 the Attorney General's office received 381 opinion requests and closed 377 opinion files. Only 10 opinions were pending at the end of February.

During January and February the Attorney General's office tried or appealed 148 cases, losing only two.

Opinions of general interest include the following: Coin-operated machines installed in business houses as a service to the customer are exempt from the tax on machines which dispense "merchandise, music, skill or pleasure."

Coin-operated children's rides in drug and grocery stores are a service to customers and tax exempt.

Judges leaving the bench before retirement age draw contribution refunds from the appropriation in effect when their claim arises. If a judge waits longer than two years to file for such return, then he must submit a claim to the Legislature for a special appropriation.

THE PHARMACY

A successful woman broker, in New York or Chicago, has some advice for husbands. Seems she thinks they don't tell their wives enough about family finances. They just say, "Buy what you need and don't worry." Then when and if something happens to the man of the house, the little woman is helpless. Doesn't even know if she can pay the doctor's bills, and things like that.

This is indeed interesting. In the financial circles in which we travel, however, it would be pretty hard to keep the family income a secret. At our house, it takes everybody in the family, working overtime, to make the books balance at the end of the month. We know some other homes like that, too.

Of course, our first reaction to the story about this prominent woman broker was complete agreement: Women should know about the family finances. It keeps them from making thoughtless purchases at the wrong time. It teaches them "the value of a dollar" (which for some reason has always been considered good, although the dollar's value is as inconstant as a thermometer). And it enables them to take over the family finances if the head of the house is put out of commission.

After agreeing, our next reaction was pride — at our house we already do it right. This, alas, was followed by a nagging suspicion: Maybe we aren't so smart after all. Women who are told "just buy what you need and don't worry," may be smarter. Any time they have to do so, most of them know perfectly well they can get sensible and use the brains they've been carefully concealing.

So now we're torn between pride in our shared economy and envy (especially right before Easter) that we can't play possum with the family income.

Sleep Important Part of Health

AUSTIN: Sufficient sleep is an important part of healthy living. Adequate sleep helps you feel well, and builds up your resistance to diseases declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. An occasional night of too little sleep will not hurt you. However, when you habitually go from day to day without enough sleep, damaging results are felt.

In addition to ruining your disposition, insufficient sleep plays havoc with your coordination and timing. Workers who are short of sleep and rest tend to be accident prone. Some men who try to hold an extra-time job to increase the family income, have paid a heavy penalty in damaged health and accidents.

Good sleeping habits take practice. It's like anything else you do. No one can learn to become an expert swimmer, just by reading about the various strokes. You have to spend many hours practicing to become a good swimmer.

Listening to the radio, watching television, or working on hobbies that persons are loathe to quit are sometimes causes of staying up too late. Late entertaining also cuts out many hours of sleep. A regular time and routine for getting ready for bed will help put you in the mood for sleep. The routine may mean reading the evening newspaper or a light story after you are ready for bed. Or it may be listening to soft music just before you turn out the lights and snuggle under the covers.

A regular routine for getting children to bed also helps put them in the mood for sleep. It helps when mothers are relaxed and pleasant when it's the children's bedtime. After reading them a quiet, pleasant story, the children will probably be ready to turn out the light and fall asleep. This helps form good sleeping habits, which mean much to a child's health. Young children need lots of sleep—about 12 hours for the preschool youngsters, and nine to ten hours for older children.

THE WRONG COMPANION

"Ah, sighed the sentimental girl, 'I could sit and gaze at the moon for hours.'"

"Would I were the man in it!" said the youth who wasn't the one.

"I agree with that," she replied wearily, "then you would be several hundred thousand miles away."

Harry S. Truman, former President: "When even one American—who has done nothing wrong—is forced to shut his mind and close his mouth, then all Americans are in peril."

A. P. Fugill, Detroit scientist: "If dynamite is set off in the middle of an uninhabited area, there is no noise because the explosion was not heard by anyone."

Dr. Arthur Bernstein, dentist: "If you are tense and uneasy when you go to your dentist, the chances are so is your dentist."

Re-Statement

As the tempo of congressional activity increases, I would like to state again my idea of the proper role of the Democratic minority in this Congress.

It is the right and responsibility of the majority to present a legislative program. It is the right and responsibility of the minority to point out the weak and the strong points of this program. Both opposition and support must be based on principle—not on partisanship.

Farm Program

This means that in considering farm legislation, for example, now the subject of committee hearings in both Senate and House, we must work for a program which will protect our farm economy without being unfair to other groups in our national life.

I oppose the sliding scale price support system—not for the sake of opposition, but because I know farmers already are in trouble and I don't want to see them pushed farther down the economic ladder. We can't get away from the record of history, which shows that the lower farm prices go—the higher farm surpluses rise.

Taxes

This concept of the minority's rightful role means that in considering tax reduction, to take another example, our purpose—during this period of "economic readjustment"—should be to seek the fairest means by which to increase consumer purchasing power.

That is why I favor increasing the personal income tax exemption. A $200 per year increase would mean an annual saving of about $160 for a married man with two children. Every family would have proportionately that much more money to spend for goods.

Treaty Powers

Debate and voting on the Bricker Amendment was almost wholly along non-partisan lines. The amendment reported by the Senate Judiciary Committee never came to the floor for a vote. After voting for several provisions designed to close the constitutional loophole with respect to treaty-making powers, I urged Senator George to introduce a substitute amendment that would attain the basic objectives of Bricker Amendment supporters.

He did so. His amendment was supported by Senator Bricker and others among the sponsors of the original amendment. We lost by just one vote.

Nevertheless, a valuable purpose has been served. Americans have been alerted to the need for action to protect the constitutional rights of the States and of the people generally. The issue will be with us again, and I predict that some such measure as proposed will finally be enacted.

For Texas

I believe Texans generally feel, as I do, that all of us are Americans before we are members of any political party. As your Senator, I want to act in the best interests of Texas and of America. I have no higher ambition.

Texaco, Foster's Tied For First

It happened again! Johnson's Texaco was in last place last week and this week they share first place position with Hosea Foster Insurance. The league is not as close as it was last week. The last place team in the men's bowling league is 3½ games out of first place.

Alvin McDonald had the high game for the night with a 212, followed by Winston Evans with 189.

Sternberg Lumber Co. won one; E. Bednorz 440, Walker 354, M. Bednorz 483, Bosley 543, and Sogree 497.

Hosea Foster Insurance won three; McDonald 523, Kiker 440, Culwell 402, London 448, and Carter 510.

City Barber Shop did not win; Zachry 385, Schmidt 328, Porter 326, Collinsworth 423, and Nickell 424.

Johnson's Texaco won four; Higgins 488, Mickey 461, Gray 424, Johnson 397, and Evans 522.

Foster's Insurance 19½ 16½
Johnson's Texaco 19½ 16½
Sternberg Lbr. Co. 17 19
City Barber Shop 16 20

Next week Johnson's Texaco will play Foster's Insurance and City Barber Shop will play Sternberg Lumber Company.

The Canyon Bowling Alley retained its first place position in the Metropolitan League in Amarillo by defeating Blackburn-Shaw Insurance all four games; Childers 450, Mickey 406, Bosley 522, Nickell 487, and Velton Sogree came through with a 616 series, the highest he has ever bowled in league play.

This week the team plays the Oakes-Fyfe Insurance team.

Secretary Dulles Has Not Convinced Public on the Reds

WASHINGTON: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is, since his return from Germany, has been hard at work trying to convince the American public the Berlin conference of foreign ministers accomplished something. But he is having trouble.

Many Americans, including some military and civilian officials in the Administration are highly skeptical about the so-called results of the Berlin meetings. The major result to come from the drawn-out talkathon was the announcement that five countries would participate in a conference in Geneva April 26th designed to bring about peace in Asia.

The fifth country to take part, of course, will be Communist China. That this is a U. S. victory is highly doubtful in the minds of many foreign and domestic observers. If the Asia peace conference accomplishes nothing, which is probable, the effect will be that the U. S. has recognized Communist China as a party to talks concerned with Asian problems.

Should France then become a Communist country — a possibility — the Reds would have three votes in five-member parleys in the future. The United States could then itself be outvoted in a five-nation conference three to two. Russia, China and France versus the United States and Great Britain.

There is no reason to expect results from the Geneva peace parley. The Russians conceded nothing at Berlin and merely used that conference to spread propaganda to every corner of the world. There is little reason for hope that the Geneva meeting will not be utilized for the same purposes by the Communists.

Dulles says the United States got "one-hundred per cent" of what it wanted and that the site and participation in the Geneva conference are exactly what the United States sought at Berlin. The Secretary of State also says that the U. S. agreement to meet with Communist China in Geneva does not mean that we will eventually recognize that nation.

He says that it does not mean that we will favor China's admission into the United Nations. But his critics say this is the first step toward recognition. And they are saying that the Communists used the Berlin meeting purely as a propaganda outlet and gained more publicity than diplomats from the West with their proper, fair and correct solutions proposed — which though just were nevertheless not sensational.

Molotov, the critics say, hogged the spotlight. Why let him repeat in Geneva—where nothing will be accomplished again? That is the question the Secretary of State must answer between now and next April 26th. And if he comes out of the April meeting with the Reds bare-handed, a lot of people will think our "good boys" are being taken to the cleaners by unscrupulous characters like V. M. Molotov.

Dulles is thus squarely on the spot to produce some results at Geneva, a task which may be impossible from the beginning.

The recent U. S. offer to train Vietnamese and other native troops in Indo-China is probably the last major step toward involvement in that war to be taken by the Administration. It came only days after new U. S. technical aid had been granted in that area and shortly after additional B-36 bombs ers had been dispatched to Indo-China.

The offer to train the soldiers of Vietnam, and perhaps Laos, and Cambodia, is the strongest possible contribution this country can make without actually engaging in hostilities. Valuable as U. S. technical assistance is, it cannot be decisive unless the troops using U. S. weapons and techniques are imbued with the proper morale and training to make them effective.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has long realized that something is lacking in the spirit of anti-Communist natives in Indo-China. He spoke so frankly on that point in a January press conference that the White House later issued a clarification of his remarks designed to soothe French feelings on the issue.

If General John W. O'Daniel is given the job of training the native troops in the war against Communist as is likely a vigorous program will quickly follow. The U. S. hopes to make Vietnam and other native divisions so numerous and effective that they alone will be able to smash Communist attacks in Indo-China.

As the U. S. training program gets underway, it will mark the gradual transfer of authority in Indo-China from the French to the U. S. command, although battle-front direction will remain in French hands. The U. S. may advise on tactics and send military observers to the front lines, if necessary. The present goal is to activate and train over 50 new native battalions in the next year. That is the program into which U. S. military authorities are now moving for the first time in the seven-year war. The French have opposed U. S. participation in the training of native troops in the past.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

There is the story going around that a freshly deceased man applying for admittance to the Pearly Gates was asked what he had done on earth. "Among other things," he replied, "I was once U. S. Secretary of Agriculture."

"Enter then," he was told, "You've had enough of Hades."

This probably illustrates what Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson felt when storm broke over decision to lower parity support on dairy products.

But government already has close to $400 million invested in surplus dairy products, plus millions in other products.

Unfortunately, no Agriculture Secretary can attack the real roots of the farm problem.

One problem is due to destruction of U. S. tariff protection. In 1947 foodstuffs with value of $2.4 billion were imported. By 1951 food imports had doubled, reaching more than $5 billion, and was about same in 1952.

In meantime, exports of food dropped from $4 billion in 1947 to less than $3½ billion in 1952. Going back further Commerce Department figures show that until reciprocal trade treaties went into effect in the 30's U. S. food exports equalled or exceeded food imports. From about 1935, until war food imports exceeded exports, often by ratio of 3 to 1.

During war food exports were much higher than imports, but since war, even with U. S. vast give-away programs the nation has been bringing in more food than it has shipped out, either as gifts, or legitimate business.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Figures also show U. S. per capita food consumption is at an all time high, but a lot of that consumption is accounted for by imported foreign food.

Another fallacy is parity. This is a scale whereby the price of certain food crops is presumably pegged to the price of what he must buy. This is akin to comparing codfish with jersey heifers.

The farmer must sell his products, subject to the vagaries of supply and demand. However, many of the things he must buy, such as petroleum, commercial fertilizers, are controlled by a few factors who fix prices unrelated to the law of supply and demand. He is in a nutcracker.

Pressure on one jaw is being exerted by the international clique of free traders. The other jaw is squeezed by monopoly minded farm suppliers who control production and prices of items farmers need.

Farm programs of past few years have been only opiates to ease pain of the squeeze.

But government has not come to grips with the real farm problem of vital national concern.

And here's another example of the wrecking of America. Congressman Lane, Mass., claims textiles imported in 1952 would have furnished jobs for a full year for 5,000 more U. S. workers. But while wages in U. S. mills average $1.60 per hour, in England they average 40 to 45 cents per hour. While American worker is 1.5% more productive, greater productivity cannot overcome a 4 to 1 wage differential.

Without stronger tariff protection for the American businessman, worker and farmer, only war or government relief projects will stop climbing unemployment figures.

In most cars, each front wheel has a kingpin pivot for turning right and left and two hinge-like joints for moving up and down over rough spots in the road.

In the 1954 Ford you won't find either the kingpin or the hinge-like joints which most cars have. In their place are two sealed ball joints about which each front wheel moves both up and down and right and left. This completely new suspension not only makes the car easier to steer but permits greater total up-and-down front wheel travel for a smoother ride.

These new ball joints pivot in specially shaped seats so that wheels will turn more easily and are far less likely to get "out-of-line." This new ball joint system eliminates 12 points of wear.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Although disagreeable to be out in, the snow as the sun was shining last week was very beautiful. It looked every bit as dramatic as the old fashioned snow storm paper weights that you turn upside down for a moment and then have a dramatically beautiful snow storm until things settle down again inside the paper weight. Wonder who turned us upside down and shook us this time to get the snow storm effect that came last week?

If you see Kenny Goodman going around as if he has a bad case of blues, think nothing of it, it's only some of that house on the southeast corner of the block rubbing off on him. There must be a strange feeling involved when you look at blue and see red.

If the weather peculiarity continues we may have a good wheat crop in this area this year after all. What we really need is a series of good, soaking rains during the month of March. A wheat crop would really do wonders for this area this year. There are several projects beginning soon that will help boost the area's economy and a good wheat crop is just the thing needed for a complete and beautiful economic picture.

Among the projects soon to employ men is the new addition at the Taylor Evans Farm Store west of town. A $120,000 addition is to be constructed there. Soon work will begin on the underpass north of town and the job of widening it will help boost the economy of the town. Still another project is the $500,000 building program soon to begin at West Texas State College. Two more buildings are the Humble station and Texaco stations going up and there's also the new $550,000 ward school building. If you look beyond the gloom of all that work that's ahead and see the money the jobs will put into circulation here, you can walk around with a smile instead of a frown.

One of those incidents that just happens every now and then occurred last week on the Douglas Marshall place when a coon leaped through a window and killed several of Marshall's chickens. John Taylor said the coon leaped through a closed window 4½ feet high breaking the glass. Marshall came in and bought some more baby chicks to replace those the coon killed. He also planned to get at the source of the trouble and organize some coon hunts to eliminate the coons in that area.

Gene Davis said last week that anyone who really wanted to know about the public should work in a 5 and 10 cent store. Here's a glimpse of what his clerks there go through. Last week a lady came in and wanted to buy a certain kind of button. She could neither find such a button in the store nor describe it. Then without giving her name or address, she dropped a dime on the counter and asked that the button be sent to her as soon as it was received. It looks as though the public is wide open for a game of button-button, who's got the button.

Speaking more seriously about the public and how you can help the society in which you live, we focus our attention upon the American Heritage Project. The best way to solve the problems we face as a nation is to study those problems as a group. That is precisely what the American Heritage Project is for and you'll enjoy working with the other members of the group very much. For additional information contact Mrs. T. V. Reeves or Dr. Ruth Lowes.

There is, so to speak, a greater resemblance than appears on the surface between prayer meetings and peace conferences: the people who need them least attend.

HUMILIATING

The children of "trailer families" have become a school problem in California. It is humiliating when a third grader begins teaching the teacher geography.

Read Your Insurance Policy To Establish Your Protection

One of the most familiar types of contracts is the insurance policy, as nearly everyone carries some sort of insurance protection. Yet, few people take the trouble to read their policies and lawyers have to answer many questions regarding insurance generally.

Here is a problem frequently presented: "I have a hospitalization insurance policy. Will the company pay all my hospital bills if I become ill?"

It may or it may not. Insurance is a contract between the insurance company and the policy holder. In the usual contract the policy holder agrees to pay a certain sum of money for the policy of insurance, and the insurance company agrees that should the policy holder incur hospital expenses that the insurance company will make payment to the policy holder of stated sums, as set out in the policy of insurance.

The insurance policy itself must state the complete contract between the parties. The oral statements of agents not in harmony with the policy are not binding on the company. The company is bound to pay only such sums as are specifically set forth in the policy of insurance.

Practically all policies have a section called exceptions and exclusions. The policy holder should particularly read this section before purchasing a policy of any kind of insurance. It would be possible for a policy of insurance to have so many exceptions and exclusions as to practically nullify any benefits under the policy.

Another question often asked is: "Can I sue the insurance company which issued a liability policy covering the car of someone who runs into and damages my car?" For all practical purposes you may not sue the insurance company which carries insurance on the other fellow's car to protect him from suits in case of his negligence. You must look to the owner or driver of the other vehicle for your damages. Upon his becoming liable to pay those damages to you, then he in turn looks to the insurance company to make the settlement for him, or to reimburse him for the settlement which he has made.

If the case goes to trial before the jury, even though you may know that the other party carries insurance, if there arises any discussion of the fact that insurance is carried by the other party, then the courts have held that it is the duty of the trial judge to declare a mistrial.

This means that you will have to start all over again and try your case from the beginning before the jury, at a later date. Your case is not dismissed, and you do not lose your rights to be heard on your case because of the word "insurance" coming into the case, but it does mean that the trial then in progress must be dismissed and you must start all over again before a new and different jury.

Theory of the appellate courts is that the mere introduction of any evidence or any testimony to the effect that there is an insurance company involved in any way in the case, is highly prejudicial to the defendant and his cause of action.

The appellate courts further say that it is reversible error, that is, such error as will set aside the findings of the jury, if the jury in retiring to consider their verdict discuss whether or not either or both of the parties might or might not have insurance to back them up or protect them.

EARTH'S AGE

Applying atomic measurement to time, four scientists have pushed the origin of the earth back to at least four and one-half million years ago. The study, made on the University of Chicago's mass spectrometers, was based on two slightly different kinds of lead found in meteorites. The lead was once uranium.

MOTHER AND 2 BABIES DROWN

Columbia, Tenn. — A young mother, Mrs. James Sims, 21, carrying two tiny sons, slipped on a rain-soaked foot bridge and toppled into a swollen creek near here. All three drowned. A third son, James Sims, Jr., who also fell into the creek, was rescued by his father.

The conqueror of Mount Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary, said he would return to Nepal on another expedition soon.
